

INTRODUCTION

The COVID-19 outbreak has caused a global health emergency and a global economic slowdown impacting millions of small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) around the world, including the Pacific region. Travel bans and restrictions on gatherings have particularly affected businesses in the Pacific, with tourism playing a major role in local economies.

Pacific Trade Invest (PTI) has commissioned Fifth Quadrant, an independent research agency, to run a regular survey to understand the ongoing effects of COVID-19 on the Pacific's private sector. The fourth wave of PTI's "Pacific Business Monitor" surveys includes responses gathered from 29 June -12 July 2020 from 134 businesses across the Pacific Islands.

This report includes data from the top three Pacific countries that provided responses, giving insights into the nuances between different Pacific countries and the effect COVID-19 is having on the private sector.

It is a long road ahead and through the regular PTI Pacific Business Monitor surveys, the objective is to provide governments, donors and stakeholders with valuable data on how businesses in the Pacific are coping.
