INTRODUCTION

The COVID-19 outbreak has caused a global health emergency, and a global economic slowdown impacting millions of small and medium sized enterprises (SMEs) around the world and in the Pacific. Travel bans and restrictions on gatherings have particularly impacted businesses in the Pacific with tourism playing a major role in local economies.

Pacific Trade Invest (PTI) has commissioned Fifth Quadrant, an independent research agency to run a fortnightly survey to understand the ongoing effects of COVID-19 on the Pacific's private sector. The first wave of the 'PTI's Pacific Business Monitor' includes responses gathered from 18-24 May 2020 from 157 businesses across 16 Pacific Islands.

This report includes data from the top four Pacific Countries we received responses from (Fiji, PNG, Tonga and Vanuatu), providing insights into the nuances between different Pacific countries and the effect COVID-19 is having on the private sector.

It is a long road ahead and through the fortnightly PTI Pacific Business Monitor the objective is to provide governments, donors and stakeholders with needed data on how businesses in Pacific are doing.
